

House bill 4822

The Grand Rapids Press has published an article about house bill 4822. People have been caring about Flint and not bill 4822 but house bill 4822 is still important. I think the 3rd grade reading bill is bad for the students. The 3rd grade reading bill is something that will hold back 3rd graders if they don't get a good grade on one reading test. Maybe some of the 3rd graders have learning disabilities and and if they get held back they might lose all their friends. A student that gets held back might get bullied. The student might stop trying after they get held back. If a person just told a 3rd grader they are going to be held back the student would probably hate school and will most likely be heartbroken. The kids that gets held back would get stressed out and might drop out of school if they got stressed out too much. They would get bored after they get held back and would probably not listen. The 3rd grader might rush to get a reading test finished and might have forgot it was important to take their time. I don't think it's fair for the students in 3rd grade to have them be held back because of just one test. I think instead of having bill 4822 the 3rd graders should have more reading or if the teacher is realising that one or more of the students in the class are struggling with reading they should have the kids read with help from their teacher.
