

Third Grade Catastrophe

During the month of January the Grand Rapids Press Published an article about House Bill 4822. This bill has not been noticed as much with everything going on in Flint, Michigan. House bill 4822 is still very important. The bill 4822 is a bill that if a kid does not pass a certain reading level he/she will be held back. Representative Amanda Price made this bill so that struggling students that don't pass the the M step test will be held back. The M Step is a test that tests all you're reading and math skills. A student can be held back for only 2 years. I believe this bill should pass because if a kid goes to 4th grade it's way too much stress. If they struggle in third grade how will they handle 4th grade. 4th grade will be way too hard if he /she can't even do 3rd grade. People say kids want a challenge. The teacher will give the kids challenges at the right time. If I were you I would want to school to be easy not hard. If this bill does not pass I believe that Senate, the House of Representatives and the governor are saying they want this kid to struggle more in 4th grade because if a of struggling problem. It's going to be too much stress and he or she will not going to be able to take 4th grade seriously. The kid will wake up in tears every day because more stress is built they won't understand anything that they are learning. Don't put more stress on the kids. kids already work extremely hard each and every day. School is for learning. Not freinds. They can't handle the emotion they are only 8 or 9 years old. I believe this bill should pass, and everyone else should to.
